UAD 3.6- Say Goodbye to Forms 1004, 1073, 1075, 2055, 1004D-1004D-
The Core Changes to Structured Data

Old Way: Separate, rigid static PDFs depending on property type (single-family, condo, multi-family).

New Way: One single, dynamic Uniform Residential Appraisal Report (URAR).

How It Works: The report 'builds itself' digitally based on the unique characteristics of the specific property.

The Technical Shift: Appraisals are transitioning from static documents containing data to structured data files that generate a readable layout.

What about the 1004D (Appraisal Update/Completion Report)?: The 1004D/442 process is handled separately. The existing 1004D/442 functions are being replaced by two separate reports:

- Restricted Appraisal Update Report: Used when an original appraisal has aged and the lender needs the appraiser to determine whether the property's value has declined since the original effective date.
- Completion Report: Used when the original appraisal was made 'subject to' repairs, alterations, or completion of new construction per plans. The appraiser users this report to confirm the work has been completed.

UAD 3.6- Why The Change?

Modernize Outdated forms: The old system used multiple static forms designed decades ago. Those fixed templates often forced appraisers to add unstructured addendums for details that didn't fit the boxes.

Improve Consistency and Quality

UAD 3.6 standardizes data definitions and reporting, making results more uniform and easier for underwriters to review.

UAD 3.6- Critical Dates & Exception Rule

The Mandate Date: Effective November 2, 2026, for all initial Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac UCDP submissions.

The Update: On Sept. 30, the GSEs announced temporary policy exceptions for certain lenders through May 19, 2027.

Staggered Environment: You will see a mix of legacy (UAD 2.6) and new (UAD 3.6) formats deal-to-deal depending on the wholesale lender's status.

Our Status: We are fully active and supporting UAD 3.6 and will continue to accept UAD 2.6 up to Jan 1, 2027 for Conventional and Non-QM loans.

UAD 3.6- The Scope of the UAD 3.6
What Changes vs. What Stays the Same

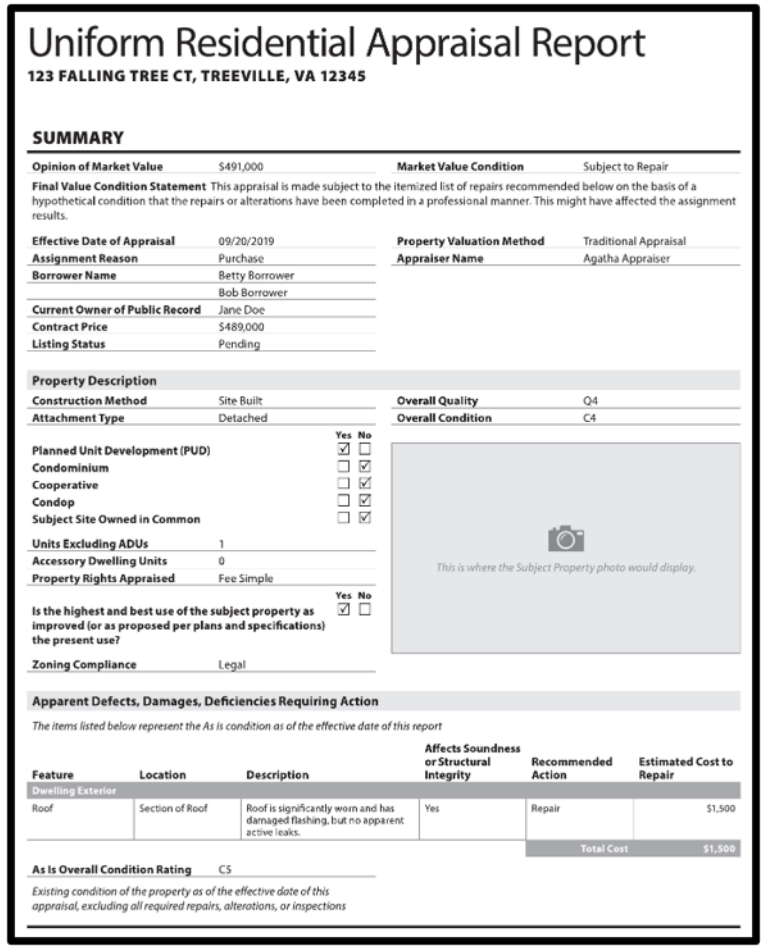

What DOES NOT Change ❌	What DOES Change 📢
How a home is valued: Comps, market trends, and fundamentals remain the baseline.	Granular, room-level metrics: Individual condition ratings for kitchens and bathrooms rather than a broad overall sweep.
The appraisal rule: The requirement to provide a copy 3 business days prior to closing still stands.	ANSI standard breakdowns: Gross Living Area (GLA) is separated into four distinct categories (Finished/Unfinished, Above/Below Grade).
Government loans: The mandate initially focuses on conventional GSE loans—not yet mandatory for VA/USDA.	More field data: Captures exact roof ages, furnace positions, and outbuildings.

What is Changing?

- About 94% of the data fields are new or have been restructured
- Free-Text comments and abbreviation codes are being replaced with standardized selections and data fields
- Photos will be placed next to the sections of the report they support rather than simply being added at the end.
- Reports will be delivered as a ZIP file containing the XML data, PDF report, and tagged images instead of the current single-file format
- A new compliance API will allow appraisal software to check the report against UAD 3.6 requirements before it is submitted to the GSEs

UAD 3.6- Safeguarding Your Turn Time and Cost Expectations
Managing your pipeline

Turn Time Realities: Expect mild delays during the initial transition wave as appraisers and AMCs adapt to the extensive data entry.

Cost Expectations: While the GSEs have not explicitly mandated higher fees, the sheer volume of the required field work means AMCs and appraisers may adjust their workflow pricing. Prepare your clients accordingly.

UAD 3.6- Your ‘Readiness’ Action Steps for Brokers

Audit Your Pipeline: Look at any deals transitioning across the mandate timeline to confirm which format your wholesale lender requires.

Prepare Your Real Estate Partners: Real estate agents must know that appraisers will spend significantly more time on-site documenting details.

Educate Borrowers/Sellers: Urge your agents and sellers to have a physical folder of permits, invoices, roof age records, and utility receipts ready for the appraiser's inspection.
